

Dear friend,

B.D. Webb of Dublin has added to his many kindnesses the giving me an occasion & an excuse for writing you. In his last letter he says, having heard that to recruit a little you were about to cross the Atlantic, -

"I would be glad thou
" would tell her that we have heard " of such a possibility - & that we are " only glad of it because it gives us
" the hope of seeing James & herself again
" Hannah & myself would rejoice to see " her & hope when they come, they " will make our house their home in " Dublin. Tell her we have no character to lose by the visit, so that every body, who knows us, knows that her portrait hangs in our drawing room, between the desk (she stood writing at the evening. She and Garrison were with us) & the door.

I only add my wish that I could stand with you any where under Richard's roof, & that you may find all you seek in the voyage.

Please Rememba me to your husband

I believe me, Yrs truly,

Wm Dill Phillips

July 3rd 1845.

Wendell Phillips

1845

To be of the right, better every and know as know that in fact it was during 1840, between the (the ship sailing at the same time and
- previous were with in (the same)

I had not yet with this and have with you any other before; good, what you want the year 1845 in the year 1845 these letters are to be sent to be sent in the year 1845 with the Phillips 1845